Carnicom Institute Newsletter

January – March 2019

The winter months found Clifford and Carol mostly in Arizona with the research continuing in the mobile lab. Identification and analysis of the components of an important protein was the main research topic. The findings here require that more substantial and sophisticated resources be devoted to the further development of the work.

Another primary focus these past months has been the development of a professional funding platform in conjunction with planning a transition from the research based Carnicom Institute toward the proposed long-term educational Carnicom Foundation.

CARNICOM FOUNDATION PROPOSAL

Carnicom Institute is now seeking to establish a non-profit educational Foundation: Carnicom Foundation. Carnicom Foundation will carry the legacy of Carnicom Institute research forward to serve the public environmental and health interests for current and future generations.

Funding campaigns have been established to initiate the creation of the Carnicom Foundation. These campaigns are presented to outline the general direction and vision of Carnicom Institute and the proposed Foundation.
